Thank you for your patience as we looked to curate content for these Interest Groups (IGs). Next Tuesday will already have a special presentation on press and media best practices. Learn from Jessie Adams-Shore about how you can best leverage media and press partners for 1-2 day KCDs.

IMPORTANT UPDATE

Upcoming Bevy Changes

As mentioned in the last newsletter, we are moving away from Bevy for KCDs, but still using them for meetups.

What does this mean for your event?

- The “Conference” event type will go away at the end of April which is next Tuesday! KCDs Lima, Zurich, Lahore, and UK need to copy and paste their current events in Bevy over to a Meetup event type, and message me ahead of publishing. I will do the rest to make sure the link will remain the same, and any attendees get merged over without being notified, to eliminate their confusion.
- For those events that have passed with this event type in place, nothing should change for the way your event is viewed. That said, if you have yet to download videos or post a YouTube video in the wrap-up section, please do so before next Wednesday!
- From now on, please be sure to ...
 - build your schedules in Sessionize, not using the agenda feature in Bevy.
 - not count on Bevy for streaming multiple tracks virtually

OPPORTUNITY

KubeWeekly Newsletter

The next newsletter is due to go out on May 3, so one week from today. Please let me know by the end of next Wednesday the 1st what content you want me to promote for your KCD in the newsletter.

Simply reply directly to me in response to this email.

Lastly - I will be out of the office the second half of May for my wedding and travel! But along with Katie, we will have another point of contact to help you with your inquiries.

And as always, thank you for dedicating your spare time to helping make cloud native ubiquitous. 🙏
